

Qualified Health Information Network Application

Version 1.1 (updated as of September 30, 2022)

This application provides the Recognized Coordinating Entity (RCE) with the information needed to determine a prospective Qualified Health Information Network's (QHIN's) ability to meet its obligations and responsibilities under the Common Agreement. Exchange activities under the Common Agreement rely heavily on trust among the community of QHINs, and this application will assist an applicant in demonstrating their readiness to join that community of trust. Capitalized terms used below without definitions shall have the respective meanings assigned to such terms in the Common Agreement or applicable Standard Operating Procedure (SOP).

In order for an organization to be Designated as a QHIN, the following requirements must be met:

- The RCE must notify applicant of its acceptance and approval of this application;
- Applicant must pay any applicable fees to the RCE; and
- Applicant must complete any additional pre-requisites specified in the QHIN Onboarding & Designation SOP.

Please be aware that the RCE's review time will depend in part on the RCE's ability to contact the references provided.

The RCE may, at its discretion, request or consider additional information beyond this application to inform a final conclusion as to whether or not the applicant has reasonably demonstrated its ability to meet the obligations and responsibilities of a QHIN.

Information requested from the applicant is intended to provide evidence to support eligibility as set forth in the QHIN Onboarding & Designation SOP. In the event that the applicant cannot provide a response to a question in this application because the applicant believes it to be not applicable, please provide an explanation for why such question is not applicable.

For any application questions in which the answers describing your current network differ from the Designated Network, please also explain and provide specific evidence of how the Designated Network will operate.

The information contained in this application shall be treated as Confidential Information as defined in the Common Agreement.
